NARCOLO-CURE

It Cures While You Continue the Use of Tobacco.

The greatest discovery of the age! A certain, pleasant, permanent cure. A lifetime's suffering ended for good. Why smoke and spit your life away? Why suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn, and drains on your vital forces? Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way! Drive the nicotine from your system by the use of this wonder-ful remedy.

NARCOLO-CURE is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including cigar, cigarette and pipe smoking, chewing and snuff taking. It is a sure cure.

I use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hankering" and desire for tobacco will disappear—the weed won't taste good.

Then throw away tobacco forever. NARCOLO-CURE is entirely vegetable and free from injurious ingredients. It never fails to give tone and vigor to the weakest constitution.

Remember NARCOLO-CURE does not deprive you of tobacco while effecting a cure; doesn't ask you to buy several bottles to be entitled to a guarantee; doesn't require a month's treatment; and, finally, doesn't enable you to stop tobacco only to find yourself a slave to the habit of snuff chewing.

With NARCOLO-CURE, when you are through with tobacco, you are through with the remedy. One bottle cures. Send for book of particulars free, or send $5.00 for bottle by mail.

Japanese Pile Cure.
C. Kendrick, South Old City, Pa., writes: a gentleman friend of mine, living in Buffalo, N. Y., sent me today a small circular of your Japanese Pile Cure. He has been suffering with the Piles for thirty-one years; tried everything he heard of and got no better until he tried one box of your Japanese Pile Cure. He got relief instantaneously, for he says he is now well. Please send me a package at once and oblige.

gathering on the Fourth of July, which will be held at the White Sulphur springs one mile north of Lafayette. A good dinner, good speeches and good music will be the program of the day. The presiding officer of the day will be E. L. Durben.

A fair representation of the W. C. T. U. was at the county and district convention held at Rockport on the 18th and 19th. This convention was an unusually important one in many respects. We had the best of speakers for the evening sessions, both of home and foreign talent. Mrs. Dr. A. S. Rudy was our home talent on "Franchise," and we had reason to be proud of her for the eloquent and instructive address she gave us. She will certainly come to the front in this department of the W. C. T. U. work.

The day sessions were devoted to the several departments of work taken up in the 17th district, such as Science, Temperance, Narcotics, Home Missions, Sabbath Observance, County Infirmary, Children's Home, Jail and Prison Work, Railroad and Evangelists.

One of the most important things attended to was the planning for a home to be provided for and sustained by the Seventeenth District for the benefit of the unfortunate women—to help uplift their physical, moral and spiritual being. This home will be established in Lima, and the plans of the undertaking will be acted upon during the State convention of the W. C. T. U. which will be held in Lima this fall.

"Narcotics," the subject for this article under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., is already embraced in the department of scientific temperance.

The amount of money spent in the United States is $600,000,000. In the city of Chicago is spent for cigars alone $24,500 daily. There are people who smoke and do not use alcoholic beverages; but there are many instances where it does lead to drinking habits, as the use of tobacco creates a thirst on account of the dryness of the throat it produces. All habitual drinkers usually smoke. With very few exceptions the two habits seem to be so closely allied that the only safety is in abstaining from all that is intoxicating.

The laws on tobacco are separate laws—and the several state superintendents of narcotics will use their influence for all of the best laws in this regard. If enforced, the laws would make a great change on school work and the physical development of our boys and young men in our schools and colleges.

The following is the law in Ohio regarding the sale of tobacco to minors:

"Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That whoever sells, gives or furnishes to any minor under fifteen years of age, any cigarette or tobacco shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both."

"Sec. 2. This act shall take effect on its passage."

The law in Ohio is very good so far as it goes, and if enforced would make a great change in the habit of smoking, and in the minds of our youth.

Our lawmakers, teachers in public schools and presidents of colleges will forbid the use of tobacco. Dr. Bashford, president of the Delaware University, has entirely forbidden its use, and that will be the test this fall to the question of the college course who uses tobacco.

The use of tobacco is an expensive habit in the use of money and on the brain and moral power. While luxuries that are pleasing to the taste and healthful to the system, as physical and brain food, is not wanted.

After THREE MONTHS
of Daily Wear

THIS COLLAR
Is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the "CELLULOID" Collar. Its original cost was 75 cents and it cost the wearer nothing after-wards to keep it clean. When soiled, simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth.

These collars and cuffs are water-proof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining of linen; therefore the only ones that can last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE MARK.
CELLULOID
MARK.

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and you will not have to get the right kind and send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cents each. Cuffs 50 cents pair. Give name and state where you stand up or turned-down collar is wanted.

SOME OLD TRADE TRICKS.
How They Were Punished Five or Six Hundred Years Ago.

Cheating in trade is no new thing. It was practiced in the fourteenth century as well as in the nineteenth. Our town records contain many cases of summary judgment in matters affecting the price, weight and quality of food, clothing and other things.

I culled a few from the archives of the city of London. In 1348 proceedings were taken against a butcher for selling mutton meat. Three reasons were alleged against this conduct at his trial before the mayor and aldermen. It was deceitful and dishonest; dangerous to the public health; it brought scandal and disgrace upon the mayor, corporation, and all the inhabitants of the city that a Londoner should behave so.

It is well known that the pillory was an instrument in which the culprit was fixed incapable of movement; exposed to the contempt of the people. The offense of the culprit was always publicly proclaimed, and according to the views of the spectators, the punishment was more or less severe. If they disliked the offense of the offender, their contempt would take the form of a verbal and forcible form of rotten eggs and dead cats, and the trader would make a close acquaintance with his own wares, both raw and cooked, than he could with any other article.

A publican, convicted of selling un- sound and unwholesome red wine, was sentenced to drink a draft of the same stuff which he sold to the common people, the remainder being poured on his head, and compelled to forever the calling of "drunkard" or "fool" for the rest of his life.

Never, unless he could obtain the favor of the king. A note on the record states that he was readmitted five years later.

About the same time we find a woman charged with selling ale in a short measure quart pot, the bottom of which was thickened with pitch, and covered with rosin, to look like bush in the sight of her customers. It was a common practice to put some sort of green leaves in the bottom of tankards—hence the proverb, "Good wine needs no bush." For sentence was pronounced in the "brew" or female pillory, with half of the pot attached to it.

As far as possible, the cause of the offense was always exhibited along with the person punished.

Severe punishment was meted out for endeavoring to raise the standard market price of corn and other articles. In 1348 a merchant was imprisoned for 40 days for enhancing the price of his own property. He severely employed a man to bring certain of his own (the merchant's) wheat to the market, whereupon he bought his own at two pence per bushel, and then sold it at three pence, course taking care to make the same well known, forgetting, however, to state what he knew about the seller.—Chicago Herald.

WEATHER BUREAU
TOLDO, O., JUNE 23, 1935.

SYNOPSIS.

The barometer is above the normal in all portions of the country except the extreme northwest and southwestern portions, where it is below, with indications of a storm area advancing.The temperature has risen over the west and northwest, and fallen slightly or remained stationary over the remainder of the country. The conditions are favorable for cooler weather for this section during the next 24 hours, followed by warmer.Light frosts are reported this morning from portions of Minnesota and South Dakota.During the past twenty-four hours rain has fallen along the Atlantic coast, and over portions of the Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and Manitoba. Rain is still falling over the western States this morning, where it has been general.Fresh to brisk winds are indicated for the lake during the next thirty-six hours, northerly becoming easterly to-morrow.

JUGGED.

A Large Number of Suspicious Characters.A Bad Gang of Crooks Following the Barnum & Bailey Show.The police force was doubled today on account of the unusually large number of crooks and fakirs that came to the city with the Barnum and Bailey circus.While the big show was in Colfax yesterday eleven crooks were arrested, and they are still prisoners at that place. The police have had an unusual amount of trouble with pickpockets all along the route of the show, and the circus detective has been notifying the police department two or three days ahead of the circus' arrival of the characters who needed watching.Chief Haller notified the patrolmen at roll call this morning to arrest all suspicious looking individuals, and to give them no chance, whatever to work the unsuspecting country people who were on the streets from early morning, and before 10 o'clock two strangers giving their names as George Morgan and William Sadtler were run in by Policemen Lehman and Tinkham, and placed in the city bustle for safe keeping. Chief of Police Conway, of Findlay, came down this morning to get tab on the crooks before the arrival of the circus in that city to-morrow morning, and while he and the circus detectives were spotting the transient thieves they arrested three fellows who they claim were "crowding," preparatory to an attempt to rob a woman of her pocketbook. If such was their intention they were defeated by the officers and the unsuspecting woman escaped. They gave their names as William Jones, John Anderson and Charles Murray, and were locked up in the city prison.About 10:30 o'clock policemen Furry and Blair arrested two more sleek looking men in a crowd at Market and Elizabeth streets. They were also locked up and gave their names as Wm. Johnston and J. C. Bell.

RIVES.Four Special Trains Bring the Big Show to Town this Morning—The Parade.Just about daylight this morning the four special trains carrying the Barnum & Bailey show, arrived in Lima, and the city was in a state of excitement. The show, which is the biggest of its kind in the world, is entertaining all, when produced as it was last night. The character of "Lila" was represented by Miss H.
Schneider, who had an excellent conception of her part and enacted it well. Her singing was especially good. Miss Pamilla Simons, who took the part of the beggar mother, and afterward the fairy queen, was also very good. The make-up of the fairies was exceptionally good. Between the first and second parts of the operetta Prof. Petrine rendered a cornet solo."The Jolly Tars" were the senior boys who followed the last scene of the operetta in a sword drill. Their armor costumes made the drill appear quite realistic.The Lullaby, by "The Little Nurses" was one of the features of the evening. The nurses were about fifty little girls, none over ten years of age, dressed in nurses' costumes and carrying dolls. After the concluded applause following the little ones' exit Master Eugene Christen rendered a vocal selection.
Rev. Father Manning then thanked the audience for their attendance and encouragement, and the entertainment ended with a sacred chorus by the school choir.Underway for ladies, misses and

RADER CASE

Still Attracting Attention at Montpelier, Ind.Mrs. Rader Visits the Town Wednesday—Rader Reported to Have Blood in His EyeThe Montpelier, Ind., Herald of yesterday contains the following: Mrs. Chas. Rader, of Lima, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and stayed afterwards upon the City Hotel register was inscribed the following:

"O. Rader and wife, Ft. Wayne."

Mr. Rader was asked if he was willing to give to the public a statement of his side of the case, and also if there was any peculiar significance attached to the visit of his wife. He positively refused to make any statement, at least until he returned from Lima, for which place he left last night accompanied by his wife.He claimed that the Herald basely magnified him by distorting and misrepresenting his statements in that had never been held.He claimed that as soon as a little business matter had been arranged in Lima he would return to Montpelier for a settlement with the Herald, and that as justice and truth were firmly arrayed on his side the outcome would be decided by the disinterested judge of this publication; incidentally he intends to include the Lima papers in the settlement, and will also straighten out affairs with a business firm that, he says, instigated the recent prosecution which led to his arrest.For a man who refused to be interviewed he said considerably, and at though he entered the office in a manner that would indicate he was bent on vengeance, he evidenced his good sense by listening to reason and leaving in a much better humor. His complaint as to the one-sidedness of the reports printed was satisfactorily explained by recalling to mind the fact that he had steadfastly refused to give his side of the case.Mr. Rader's principal grievance appeared to be the interview printed in Monday night's issue, which, he says, Mrs. Keckler denies ever being had. He evidently believes her story, but she has made so many contradictory statements that her denial does not amount to much, especially when the entire matter can be proven by disinterested parties.Some things said by Mr. Rader, also, are not borne out by the facts in the case, as for instance: In the Herald office last night he claimed that he did not know why his wife came to Montpelier, and even did not know she was here until he accidentally met her on the street.
Possibly he does not know why she came, but that he expected her is evident, as he was seen hurrying toward the depot to meet the 5:22 south bound train on which she arrived, and in less than a half hour after that time they were enjoying supper together at the City hotel.
Mr. Rader claims the right to associate with his wife when and where he pleases, a right which nobody denies him, but it is not good policy to mis-state facts, as it will only prejudice his case in the eyes of the public.He expects to return from Lima either this evening or to-morrow and will then be ready to present his side of the case to the public, as he claims to be desirous of getting his affairs straightened out and demonstrating the fact that his dealings with Mrs.
Keckler have been honest and upright, and that every dollar of her money expended by him can be accounted for in a satisfactory manner.
That she believes him is evident, as he is still acting as her agent, at least he claims to be.The Herald will in his case, as in all others, report the story as told by him, verbatim, but if other bits of evidence indicate another side to the case it will give that also. As to his threats of a libel suit, it is sufficient to say that this paper has located here permanently and will not be swayed from the path of truth by fear of consequences, nor will its representative allow the possibility of personal vengeance to intimidate him.
Should he persist in suing for a few thousand dollars damage, we will inform him that he will not find the Herald as easy a mark as Mrs. Keckler.Treat's Call on us for Belts. Belt

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Of the Lafayette Postoffice by a Boy.

Frank Albert, a 14-year-old boy, is in the county jail serving time for attempting to burglarize the postoffice at Lafayette. The office is located in Wm. Watt's store and the only clerk in the place had stepped out for a moment, and when he returned young Albert was behind the partition and had made a grab for the money, dropping part of it.
He was sentenced to ten days, and he and Hoover, who is serving time for contempt, were the only prisoners in the jail.When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
